

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS IN CITY UNTIL NINE P. M.

Republicans, Register Under Your True Colors. It Gives the Party Prestige. It Will Encourage Good Men to Accept the Nomination Next Year to See the Poll Books, Showing the Real Party Strength and Personnel.

BOOK IS CARRIED TO HEADQUARTERS BY PARTY WORKER

How Registration in Schmidt's, A Strong Republican Precinct, Was Delayed This Morning for More Than an Hour.

NO DEMOCRATIC OFFICERS.

Some Democrats early began unfair work this morning, and made away with the registration book of Schmidt's precinct, at Eleventh and Caldwell streets, the strongest Republican voting precinct in the city, and delayed registration.

Many voters in this precinct go to work before 7 o'clock and register on their way to work. There was no book until Luther Graham brought it from Democratic headquarters at 7 o'clock and then no Democratic election officers showed up, a suspicious coincidence. Many voters failed to register on account of the delay.

The law expressly prohibits any one but specified officers handling the books.

Immediately after the delivery of the Schmidt's registration book last night to Ward's grocery store, where the registering and voting has been done in the past, Luther Graham, it is said, telephoned Charles Ripley, the druggist, who had refused to serve as a Democratic election officer, and whose place of business is just across the street next to the new registration booth, asking him to go over and secure the book. Ripley procured the book. Shortly afterward Albert Senner, a former patrolman, and Ernest McIntire, a Harrison worker, appeared at the drug store and took charge of the book. They carried it to Democratic headquarters, in the rear of the second floor of the Trueheart building, between Fifth and Sixth streets on Broadway.

The book was kept at Democratic headquarters until this morning over an hour after the time for opening the polls.

Luther Graham delivered it too late for hundreds of Republican workmen, who have to report for duty at 7 o'clock, to register.

Alderman E. E. Bell said: "I am reliably informed that Democrats tried to secure the book from Mrs. Hiram Smedley, wife of the county clerk, and also telephoned to the court house to secure it in the afternoon. The book was delivered at Schmidt's precinct in the afternoon by Clerk Hiram Smedley, and early in the evening it was carried to Ripley's drug store and taken from there by Ernest McIntire and Albert Senner. By an admission of a Democratic candidate who was present when the book was brought, it was delivered into Democratic headquarters last night. This morning there was no book at the polls. We began an investigation and found where it was. Again, Democratic clerks and election officers failed to report, and when Luther Graham showed up with the book it was nearly 7 o'clock. They told us to go ahead and hold the registration ourselves, but we refused and finally managed to get Mr. Bob Wilkins and Henry Katterjohn, Sr. to serve as Democratic officers. It was 7:12 when the polls opened."

Mr. Ripley's Statement. When asked for his part in the work, Mr. Ripley showed clearly that he was an innocent party. He stated:

"Luther Graham telephoned me to go over to Schmidt's precinct and get the book. I did, and shortly Senner and McIntire came in and took it away. This is as much as I know of it. I refused to serve as a clerk, making my decision known last night, because my business would not permit me to."

When asked to whom he turned the book over this morning, Albert Senner stated: "Luther Graham," and when E. E. Bell asked why he did it, replied, "Just because."

The Other Side. A Democratic candidate said regarding the matter: "Why we knew that the Ripley drug store would not be open at 6 o'clock in the morning and wanted the book in hands where it would be delivered in time. There

PLEADING FOR THE TICKET, APPEALING TO PREJUDICES, AVOIDING BRADLEY'S SPEECH

Governor Beckham and Ollie James Speak to Good Sized Crowd at Fifth Street and Kentucky Avenue

"Conditions are much like those existing prior to the election of Governor Bradley. The same tactics are being resorted to by the Republicans. 'Democracy represents the best element of your citizenship. 'The Democratic party is better fitted to rule.

"I cannot believe you people of the First district—the Gibraltar district of Democracy—will allow the Republicans to grasp the reins of power. 'You men of west Kentucky must not only roll up an old time majority, but must increase the majority this year."

This was the refrain of Governor J. C. W. Beckham's speech at Fifth street and Kentucky avenue last night, to which he returned constantly in his address.

Ollie James seconded it with appeals to passion and prejudice. There were, perhaps, 1,000 people present. The night was ideal, the location was central, where the passing throng could be attracted, by a band, which paraded the streets twice. Democrats expressed pleasure at the size of the crowd, and the Republicans were jubilant at its smallness.

Certainly, the Republicans had the better right to jubilate over the lack of enthusiasm manifested.

Governor Beckham and Ollie James did not rest with appealing for the state ticket, but they urged the voters to support the city and legislative tickets on the same grounds, and the best they got for their efforts at the mention of names of candidates was a ripple of hand clapping.

Of course when Ollie James described the decline and fall of the national Republican party, and the developing strength of the Democratic party under the leadership of the peerless Bryan, told how the Democrats put through the Hepburn bill (with the assistance of the Republican majority), how the Republicans in the next congress would be afraid of the Japs and wish to sell the Philippines, and what a good Democrat Roosevelt is, he received cheers and laughter, partly because his auditors love Ollie James, and partly because they enjoyed the very audacity of his utterances.

The governor and party came in at 4 o'clock from Mayfield and their special coach attached to a local freight was met at Eleventh street and Broadway by a delegation composed of Mayor Yeiser, City Attorney Tom Harrison, Judge D. A. Cross, Eugene Graves, George Walters and Police Lieut. Tom Potter. Carriages

WILLSON LANDED HEAVILY ON THE ELECTION FRAUDS

Bardwell. This Afternoon. Fulton. Tonight at 8 Mayfield. Tomorrow at 11:30 Paducah. Thursday night Murray. Friday at 1:30 Benton. Saturday at 1:30

Hickman, Ky., Oct. 1.—(Special)—Crowded to overflowing was the city hall last night when C. L. Walker introduced A. E. Willson, Republican candidate for governor. Mr. Willson plunged into the Democratic machine record for corrupt elections, went into detail in the pardon record of the administration, and exposed the frauds of the Franklin county election. The crowd was enthusiastic and many shook hands with Mr. Willson after the speaking.

Mr. Willson left last night at 10:30 o'clock for Bardwell, where he will speak this afternoon. Tonight he will return to Fulton to address a big meeting, and he will reach Mayfield at 10:45 o'clock Wednesday morning.

SUIT TO PREVENT INJURY TO TITLES

Attorney C. C. Grassham is today preparing a suit to be filed in the Lyon county circuit court enjoining the county assessor and several parties of Lyon county from surveying and filing land patents on the land is that county belonging to the Hillman Land and Iron company. The land company owns several thousand acres of wild lands in Lyon county and has undisputed possession for 45 years, but recently several tracts of 200 acres each have been surveyed and patents applied for by people under the impression that the land had never been filed on. The land in question abounds in iron ore and although isolated from shipping facilities may some time prove of great value.

County Clerk Henry Bailey issued during September a total of 17 burial permits, seven being for colored persons.

An Old Trick.

An old trick of challenging voters near the registration booths is being indulged in at some precincts. The fact that no one has a right to challenge at registration is now so well known that the scheme doesn't work well in most cases. Demands for poll tax and other means to frighten away voters are adopted in various sections of the city.

BETTER LAND LAW SAYS ROOSEVELT TO IOWA FARMERS

Keokuk, Ia., Oct. 1.—President Roosevelt reached Keokuk this morning and was greeted by representatives of the city and state. He made a speech, after which he reviewed the assembled river fleet, and departed down the river to St. Louis, accompanied by the most remarkable flotilla ever seen on inland waters.

The president said in part: "During the last few years we of the United States have been forced to consider very seriously certain economic problems. We have made a beginning in the attempt to deal with the relations of the national government—that is, with the relation of the people of the country—to the huge and wealthy corporations, controlled for the most part by a few very rich men, which are engaged in interstate business—especially the great railway corporations. You know my views on this matter. You know that I believe that the national government, in the interests of the people, should assume much the same supervision and control over the management of the interstate common carriers that it now exercises over the national banks. You know furthermore that I believe that this supervision and control should be exercised in a spirit of rigid fairness toward the corporations, exacting justice from them on behalf of the people but giving them justice in return.

"Recently I have been reading the work of the eminent Italian scholar Ferrero on the history of the Roman republic, when the life of the Roman state had become that of a complex and luxurious industrial civilization. I am happy to say that the differences between that civilization and our own are more striking than the resemblances; and there is no warrant for our being drawn into any pessimistic comparison between the two civilizations. But there is every reason why we should study carefully the past in order to draw from it lessons for use in the present. One of the most striking features of the years which saw the downfall of the Roman republic was the fact that the political life of Rome became split between two camps, one containing the rich who wished to exploit the poor, and the other the poor who wished to plunder the rich. Naturally, under

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS STATE LODGE IS IN SESSION TODAY WORDS OF WELCOME SPOKEN

Mayor Yeiser Delivers Keys of City to Delegates and Felicitations are Passed—Al Young for Grand Outer Guard Paducah's Man.

More than 350 representatives of the order of Knights of Pythias of Kentucky were present when the grand lodge meeting convened in the assembly room of the Fraternity building this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The meeting was presided over by Chancellor R. L. Palmer, of Paducah lodge, No. 26. The Rev. J. H. Henry, pastor of the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church, was introduced and invoked the divine blessing.

The address of welcome on behalf of the city was delivered by Mayor Yeiser, who bade the delegation welcome to the city, paying high tribute to the order and its representatives present.

The address was responded to by Representative J. J. Howe, in an eloquent address, in which he gave high praise to the people for the hospitality extended, saying that if any member present had not been entertained and given a good time while in the city he could only blame himself.

After an address of welcome on behalf of the local lodge by Chancellor Palmer, Grand Chancellor M. H. McLean delivered the annual address, in the beginning of which, he also took occasion to express appreciation of the reception that had been tendered the grand lodge members by the people of Paducah.

The grand chancellor's address showed that the order in the state is in a most healthful condition and is steadily growing. Many new lodges have been instituted, especially in the eastern section of the state in the mountain counties. All differences that ever existed have been wiped out and the order is working in perfect harmony.

At the conclusion of the address, the body went into social session participated in by lodge members and citizens generally. Light refreshments were served and good feeling prevailed.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the visiting representatives will be given a trolley ride over the city starting at Fifth street and Broadway, and tonight an informal reception will be tendered at Wallace park Casino.

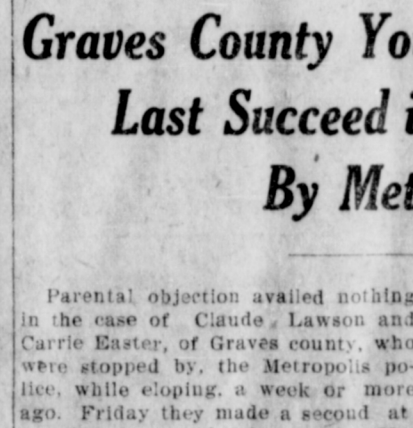

There are many important changes in the laws of the order to come before the order and the completion of the Widows' and Orphans' home will call for the adoption of rules and regulations for the institution.

TYLER IS THROWN OVERBOARD FROM SINKING VESSEL

Mayfield, Ky., Oct. 21.—(Special)—In his speech here today Governor Beckham practically repudiated Owen Tyler, Democratic candidate for mayor of Louisville, when he said: "The best citizenship of Kentucky is in favor of strict Sabbath observance. I can not see how any man can honestly appeal to the better class of voters without advocating the closed Sunday." Owen Tyler's platform is frankly in favor of the open town, and the fact that the state Democratic ticket is appealing to the disorderly vote of Louisville on a wide open local platform, has caused considerable uneasiness among the temperance folks of Graves county. While the governor's utterances won applause for their sentiment, he did not entirely satisfy the voters, that the state ticket is not playing for votes both ways. In answer to Judge James Breathitt's argument on the inheritance tax, he said the tax does not affect direct inheritances, but only collateral heirs. The court room was crowded.

EVANSVILLIANS WILL BE GUESTS OF PADUCAH

Paducah business men will have as their guests tomorrow night a delegation of 75 representatives of the Evansville Business Men's association, who will reach the city some time in the evening on the steamer John S. Hopkins en route to Cairo to join President Roosevelt and his party on the trip to Memphis. The visitors will be met at the boat by a delegation headed by Mayor Yeiser, who will welcome them to the city. Later a banquet will be tendered them at the Palmer House at which speeches will be made by Hon. Charles K. Wheeler, Sol Dreyfuss, and Hal Corbett. If the boat arrives in the city early enough the party may be carried over the city by the automobile club.

Mr. Harry Meyer, of Nagel & Meyer, received a letter today from the secretary of the Evansville club, stating that the Hopkins would reach Paducah not later than 9 o'clock Wednesday evening.

SLEEPY DRIVER WAS CAUSE OF ACCIDENT.

Alfred Theobald, the seven-year-old son of Mr. Henry Theobald, of 1611 Tennessee street, was knocked down and run over by a team of mules hitched to a coal wagon and driven by a sleepy driver yesterday afternoon, sustaining a fractured left elbow and a cut scalp. The child was sent to a grocery near his home and was attempting to pass the wagon, when the team ran upon the sidewalk, where the child was, knocking him down with the tongue. His body fell lengthwise between the mules and once only the hoofs struck his elbow, the wheels missing him entirely.

MR. ALEX OWEN DIES.

WHITE PLAINS COAL CO.

Directors of the White Plains Coal company met in their office in the Fraternity building this morning and elected officers. B. H. Scott was elected president and treasurer; W. F. Shain, vice-president; H. H. Loving, secretary. The directors of the company are: W. F. Shain, B. H. Scott, H. H. Loving, Buck Owen, W. A. Martin, E. P. Gibson and R. H. Noble. The company owns 2,800 acres of land at White Plains, Ky., which will be developed. The land is adjacent to several successful mines.

AMERICAN-GERMAN BANK'S NEW HEAD IS MR. L. M. RIEKE

Mr. George C. Thompson Retires After Twenty Years Active Service and Mr. Rankin Kirkland Succeeds E. L. Atkins as Cashier.

STATEMENT MADE BY BOARD.

Directors of the American-German National bank today announced a change in the officers of that institution. Mr. George C. Thompson retiring from the presidency and Mr. Edward L. Atkins from the cashiership. Mr. Louis M. Rieke succeeds Mr. Thompson and Mr. Rankin Kirkland succeeds Mr. Atkins.

When seen by a reporter for The Sun today, Mr. Thompson said: "Due to a wretched condition of health, brought on by overwork and worry, I have resigned the position of president of the bank, and Mr. Rieke will succeed me. However, I shall remain with the institution in an active capacity as vice president. I have been in ill health for a year past and requested the directors to relieve me of some of the responsibilities of the position. Mr. Atkins has desired to move west for some time and has just definitely decided to do so. He, too, has been in ill health, and will leave in a few months to make his permanent residence in the west."

The New Officials.

Mr. Louis Rieke comes to his new position well qualified for it. He has been in the wholesale drygoods business as a member of the firm of C. H. Rieke & Sons for 30 years, and identified with the directory of the American-German National bank for years. He has been successful in his own business, is a keen student of finance and an excellent judge of real estate.

A man of fine executive ability and a splendid accountant, he has been solicited on several occasions before to take the chief position in other local financial institutions, as he is by nature endowed for such position, but could not be alienated from his own business until the present condition developed.

Mr. Kirkland is the son of City Auditor Alex Kirkland, and his rise in the bank is a worthy recognition of marked talent and ability. He went into the bank about eight years ago and has gradually risen from messenger boy to his present position. He has been filling the position of teller for the last few years and will combine the duties of that office with the cashiership for a few weeks until the appointment for that position is made.

The American-German National bank is one of the largest institutions in west Kentucky, and its career has been a successful one. It occupies one of the handsomest bank buildings in the city. The capital is $230,000 and surplus $100,000. Mr. T. J. Atkins, vice president of the bank, will remain in that capacity, the bank having created the position of first vice president for Mr. Thompson.

Graves County Young Couple at Last Succeed in Being Married By Metropolis Magistrate

Parental objection availed nothing in the case of Claude Lawson and Carrie Easter, of Graves county, who were stopped by the Metropolis police while eloping, a week or more ago. Friday they made a second attempt and succeeded in reaching Metropolis, where they were married Saturday night by Magistrate Thomas Liggitt. Neither of them was of age and while young Lawson was seeking the consent of his mother, a telephone message from the father of the girl reached the Metropolis police and she was taken in charge. The couple reached Metropolis on their second trip Friday, but the affidavit of the young man's mother was defective. Lawson did not leave his lady love this time but sent a friend, who got back with the affidavit in proper form, Saturday evening.

BABE'S CRIES DRIVE MAN TO MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 1.—Ross C. Brice's baby was fretful all of Saturday night, and because Brice was unable to sleep in consequence, he shot his wife and then himself this morning. Both died a few hours afterward. The couple retired early Saturday evening, but the baby became fretful. Brice left the house in disgust. Returning at 9 o'clock, he called his wife from bed and shot her as she opened the door. A second shot killed himself.

WANTS EVIDENCE OF COMPLICITY

Federal Judge Notifies the Prosecution

Grand Jury Is Investigating Steunenberg's Connection With Great Land Frauds.

CASE AGAINST SENATOR BORAH

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 1.—Federal Judge Wilson, who is presiding at the trial of United States Senator Borah, notified the prosecution today that the case had reached a point where some testimony connecting the defendant on trial with the alleged Idaho land fraud conspiracy must be presented. The attorneys for the government, acting on the suggestion, said they would offer in evidence tomorrow records of the county clerk's office, showing scores of timber deeds that had been admitted to record at the request of Senator Borah.

Testimony again had to do largely with the actions of former Governor Steunenberg in the land dealing. Attorney Hayley protested against the witnesses being allowed to give conversations with Steunenberg. He said they had no bearing on Senator Borah's case and tended only to blacken the memory of a man who cannot answer.

May Affect Miner's Cases.

While the government is trying—thus far in vain—to connect Senator Borah with the land frauds, a special grand jury under a special prosecutor is attempting to get to the bottom of the alleged connection of ex-Governor Steunenberg with the thefts of the government timber domain.

The action has an important bearing on the coming trials of C. H. Moyer and Charles Pettibone, the miners' chief accused of the governor's murder. If the charges involving Steunenberg's name are sustained its effect on public opinion will give strong aid to the two accused union men, it is said.

District Attorney Timothy Burke of Wyoming, who is conducting the inquiry, is bringing out every possible piece of evidence against Steunenberg, even if it adds nothing to the case against men thus far indicted or who may be indicted in the future. It is also pointed out that the Moyer and Pettibone cases depend to a large extent on the outcome of the trial of Senator Borah.

Police Report.

A total of 155 arrests was made during September by the police force as follows:

Housebreaking, 7; disorderly conduct, 22; drunkenness, 22; Presenting pistol, 3; breach of ordinance, 6; drunk and disorderly, 27; breach of peace, 36; false swearing, 1; forgery, 1; obtaining money under false pretenses, 2; petty larceny, 5; fugitive from justice, 2; malicious cutting, 2; suspect, 1; converting money of another to one's private use, 1; grand larceny, 2; malicious assault, 1; malicious shooting, 3; using insulting language, 3; gambling, 3; immorality, 2; disorderly house, 1; total, 155.

Charge Breach of Contract.

Attorney D. G. Park instituted suit at Hopkinsville yesterday for the Kentucky Amusement company against the Robinson Amusement company, the former of Paducah and latter of Cincinnati, for $2,000. The allegations are that the defendant broke a contract made to give a carnival in Paducah this fall. The defendant is showing at Hopkinsville this week.

A HARD YEAR FOR SUFFERERS

A Noted Authority Gives Advice to Prevent and Relieve Catarrh of All Kinds.

SIMPLE HOME RECIPE.

The coming months will be a harvest for the doctors and patent medicine manufacturers unless great care is taken to keep the feet dry, also dress warmly.

This is the advice of a well-known authority and should be heeded by all who are subject to rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles and especially catarrh. While the latter is considered by most sufferers an incurable disease, there are few men or women who will fail to experience great relief from the following simple home prescription, and if taken in time it will prevent an attack of catarrh during the entire season.

Here is the prescription which any one can mix: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

These are mostly vegetable ingredients and can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost. The Compound Kargon in this prescription acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys to make them filter and strain from the blood, the poisons that produce all forms of catarrhal affections. Relief is often felt even after the first few doses and it is seldom that the sufferer ever experiences a return attack within the year.

This prescription makes a splendid remedy for all forms of blood disorders and such symptoms as lame back, bladder weaknesses and rheumatic pains are entirely dispelled.

As this valuable, though simple, recipe comes from a thoroughly reliable source, it should be heeded by every afflicted reader.

BRAZEN APPEAL

LOUISVILLE DEMOCRATIC MACHINE FOR VOTES.

Offers Colored Denizens a Wide Open Town If They Will Support Owen Tyler This Fall.

Louisville, Oct. 1.—The Democrats of Louisville began working among the negroes of Louisville Saturday in an effort to enlist them under the banner of "Tyler and a wide-open town."

Their efforts were confined to the lower class of negroes, as the better negroes are so well pleased with an orderly city and the restraint put upon the vicious negroes that they will vote for law and order.

The Tyler managers, however, are working to solidify the vote of the lawless negroes and are trying to stir them up so they will endeavor to work in repeaters.

The allurements of a "wide-open town," crap games unmolested, saloons open all day Sunday and an utter lack of restraint are held up to the negroes who might be tempted by these things.

The desperation of the gang was never better exemplified than in its brazen appeal to all that is worst in the make-up of the city in its effort to get control of Louisville again.

Fortunately the law-abiding negroes are in the majority, and the machine will gain nothing by its abandoned course toward the negroes.

Famous Divine Passes Away.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 1.—Just after having rounded out 50 years of vigorous work on the Christian Observer, and within a few weeks of the anniversary of the sudden death of the Rev. Dr. Francis R. Beattie, who had been his associate in that work, the Rev. Dr. Francis Bartlett Converse, head of the publishing firm of Converse & Co., and one of the leaders of the Presbyterian church in the south, died at his residence, 422 West St. Catherine street, at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning following a heart attack. Dr. Converse was 71 years old, and was probably the best-known writer on religious subjects in the south, if not in the whole country.

RIVER NEWS

The rise in the river seems to have been short lived as the gauge only registered 8.6 or a rise of .1 since yesterday. Business, however, was exceedingly good in the shipping line today and a large quantity of freight was delivered at the wharf for the regular packets.

The steamer Clyde came in this morning at 3 o'clock from the Tennessee river. She will stay here until tomorrow afternoon before getting away on her return trip.

The Butteroff is the boat due in the Evansville trade today. As she did not get away until late Sunday afternoon it is not expected that she will reach port before late tonight.

Capt. B. Berryman has returned from Memphis, where he piloted a government steamer down the Mississippi. He will leave tomorrow evening for Cairo with the Dick Fowler, which he will pilot down the river with the envoy fleet with the president's party.

The Henrietta is in from the Tennessee with a tow of ties for the Ayer-Lord company.

The sand dredger resumed work this morning over near the big sandbar.

The R. Dunbar left for Cairo this morning with a good business. A large part of her cargo was composed Priests on Kodiak Island Report Outrage to American Captain.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 1.—A report was made to United States Consul Smith of Vancouver yesterday by Captain Munro of the schooner Case, of the pirating of the Alaskan village on Litak Bay, on Southwest Kodiak Island, by the crew of a Japanese sailing schooner operating in the Bering sea. The Case called at Litak Bay for water and the Russian priests asked Captain Munro to inform the United States authorities of the outrage. The Japanese landed broke open the houses and looted right and left.

Platform of the Republican Party

The platform of the Republican party, adopted in convention at Louisville, is as follows:

We approve the policies and commend the ability, integrity and courage of President Roosevelt and his administration, and without expressing a preference for any candidate, favor the selection by the next national convention for president of one in full accord with those policies, and who will energetically carry them out in the interests of all the people.

Second—We demand that all elections shall be honestly conducted, and declare that the cause of good government and the future happiness and welfare of the people of Kentucky are inseparably bound up in the suppression of all abuses and crimes against an honest ballot, that have so unfortunately disgraced our state under Democratic rule, depriving the people of their rightful heritage—representative government.

The law for registration certificates, imposed on the state by the Democratic party for immoral purposes, whereby votes in Kentucky have become negotiable instruments, passing by delivery, ought to be repealed.

Third—The judiciary of the state in both the circuit and appellate courts, should be chosen on non-partisan grounds, and the continuance in office of faithful judicial public servants should be determined by no other qualifications than fitness.

Fourth—There should be complete publicity concerning the expenditure of money for political campaigns, and a law should be passed providing for an accounting by candidates and campaign managers of all sums of money collected for political purposes.

Fifth—We demand the redistricting of Kentucky in legislative, senatorial, congressional and judicial districts, which shall give equal representation and equal voting power to every citizen of every district, in conformity with the plain requirements of the constitution, and not as at present, in flagrant violation thereof.

Sixth—There should be prompt and efficient enforcement of the criminal laws of every kind, and at all times, but especially at this time do we call for the rigid enforcement of the law against those forms of crimes, which, under the recent administration of justice, in many communities, have gone practically unpunished. Election thieves, gamblers, pool room operators and others, to commit crimes in the interest of those controlling the local administration of some of our cities and counties, should be punished, and the juries should be so selected as to prevent the packing of juries for the purpose of securing verdicts in accordance with the wishes of those in whose hands the selection of the juries is placed, or under whose control and direction they are selected.

Seventh—We demand that the books, vouchers and accounts of all municipalities, all public officers and public institutions supported by the state, counties or cities, and of all corporations in which a city or state owns the majority interest, either directly or through subordinate corporations, trustees or commissioners, shall be open to inspection and investigation by any citizen, and shall be regularly audited and the results published by an independent accountant, who shall not be eligible to re-examine such books, vouchers or accounts twice in succession.

Eighth—We demand a reform in the management of our public eleemosynary and penal institutions, to the end that they shall be operated by bipartisan boards, upon proper business principles, and their inmates treated humanely.

Ninth—We favor the enactment and enforcement of a uniform local option law, with the county as the governing unit.

Tenth—We demand that the public schools of the state shall be taken and kept entirely out of politics, and that the interests and welfare of the children shall have first consideration in all public school matters.

We call for better schools and school houses, for longer school terms in the country, and better pay for the teachers, and the elections for school trustees be had on different days from other elections.

Eleventh—We favor amendments to state laws permitting and encouraging joint nominations of the same candidate by the different parties.

Twelfth—We condemn the law, passed for immoral political purposes creating the racing commission in Kentucky, and demand its repeal.

Thirteenth—We condemn the enactment by the Democratic party of a large number of obnoxious tax laws and the creation of useless offices as the reward of partisan service, and we promise, if given power, to repeal all such laws and reduce the taxes to the lowest possible rate consistent with an efficient administration of the state government.

Conclusion.

For years past the legislation enacted by the Democratic party and dictated by certain of its leaders has not been for the benefit of the citizen, but for the officeholder. The chief aim of such legislation has been the continued holding of office and the creation of new offices to be traded in as rewards for party service.

The citizen is at last realizing, as never before, that the administration of public affairs is a business that comes close home to him; that such business must be honestly and efficiently conducted, and that his ballot should not be cast as a matter of sentiment, but for that candidate or party which shows the highest capacity for properly conducting the affairs of the state on strict business principles.

We ask the support of all patriotic citizens, regardless of their party affiliations, for the state ticket selected by this convention, and for the policies and principles above stated, believing that it will insure better days for Kentucky.

VIVID GREEN HAT FOR TOURIST.

King Edward Style Adopted By Returning European Travelers.

New York, Oct. 1.—Green hats such as King Edward VII. of England wore during his recent visit to the continent are now the vogue with the returning American tourists. The voyagers on the Baltic and the Campanian which arrived here last week rejoiced in the new fashion, and several completed the color scheme by wearing ties and scarfs of the same shade.

It is declared that the fashion is spreading over Europe, and the men travelers count their trip incomplete unless they have such hats. The headgear is shaped on the Alpine model and looks not unlike some of the picturesque creations seen in the Tyrol. The ribbon of green which adorns it is wide and ends in a fluffy flourish.

JOSEPH H. NASH ARRIVES TODAY

New Master Mechanic for Illinois Central Shops.

Letter Addressed to Him as "Personal" Reached Office as Forerunner of Official.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Joseph H. Nash, master mechanic for the Illinois Central at East St. Louis, is expected to arrive in Paducah this afternoon to assume charge of the local shops in the capacity of master mechanic. This morning a letter came to Mr. Nash addressed "personal," and other letters are piling in, an indication that he has received the appointment. This, with the fact that he has rented a house here, confirms the rumor that he would be the new master mechanic, and shop men are no longer wondering "who he will be," but "when will he be here."

"Speaking of the job of master mechanic at Paducah," stated a popular railroad man, "did you ever stop to think of what a proposition it is? The master mechanic here has more officials over him than any other master mechanic on the system. He is under the orders of the superintendents of the Nashville, Louisville, Jackson and Tennessee divisions; trainmasters of the same districts; and two traveling engineers, and has to turn each official's work out as soon as he can. Engines from all divisions come in constantly, and he has to figure some to please them all."

October 1 brought no bulletin authorizing a cut in working forces in the Illinois Central shops, a good indication that the present full force will be maintained throughout the winter. Work has been piling into the shops steadily for months, and every engine is needed, and rush orders are still in effect here.

Engine No. 846, which turned over at Luzerne mines several weeks ago and was smashed up, was turned out of the shops this morning for limbering up, and will go into service tomorrow.

Engineer Joe A. McCann, of the Illinois Central, who has been in the hospital in St. Louis under a specialist for an operation, has returned fully recovered. He will resume his run between Paducah and Memphis at once.

Railroad Reports.

Freight traffic on the Illinois Central during September was heavier than ever before in the history of the road. The Louisville, Nashville and Tennessee divisions handled freight so fast into Paducah that the yards were blocked the greater part of the month.

Reports from the ticket department and baggage rooms are that traffic did not increase much during September over the previous month.

Walter Williamson, colored 40 years old, a laborer in the Illinois Central shops, while rolling truck wheels, caught his left hand and crushed it.

GUILT NOT YET FIXED ON BORAH

Prosecution Confronted by Task of Connecting Senator With Fraud.

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 1.—The second week of the trial of Senator Borah, charged with complicity in the Idaho land frauds, begins tomorrow morning before Federal Judge Whitson with the government attorneys still confronted by the task of connecting the defendant with the alleged unlawful combination. During the first six days of the trial the name of Senator Borah was seldom heard, and the evidence adduced in behalf of the government had to do mainly with the activities of former Governor Frank Steunenberg. It seems to be the policy of the defense to admit for the purpose of Senator Borah's case that conspiracy did exist, but to contend that Senator Borah knew nothing of its formation or existence and that he acted in good faith as attorney in handling land matters. Senator Borah continues to express confidence that he will be completely exonerated.

There is no righteousness without some self-respect.

The Splendid New Serial Story

Satan Sanderson

Satan Sanderson is the true embodiment of the requisites that make a really great story. It gives the reader a look into a little world of action where all of the emotions that make or mar life—and lives—are set in swift, exciting play—one against the other. Incident follows incident with quick succession, and a vivid panorama of intrigue, mystery, love and strange adventures kindles the interest to the fusing point.

Written in a charming style, brilliant in coloring, picturesque in background, faithful in characterization and intensely dramatic, with stirring climax, Satan Sanderson is by all odds the best story of the year.

"I have been attending grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias sixteen years, but I never before witnessed hospitality the equal of this," said Delegate W. C. Quinby, at the meeting last night. And let us add, Mr. Quinby and your brother delegates: No one was ever more welcome in Paducah than you are.

The Swedish Yacht club has challenged to race for the American cup. The Swedes will find that cup is about as hard to lift as the north pole.

President Roosevelt is starting on a tour through that section of the country, where they rear thoroughbred American citizens, the Mississippi valley.

CONFESSES WEAKNESS.

Whatever may have been the effect on partisan hearers last night of the plea of Governor Beckham for their support of the ticket, no fair-minded man can consider it otherwise, than as a confession of weakness. With frankness that was almost startling, the governor, after describing the inequities of Republican rule, said that conditions much resemble those existing prior to Bradley's election, and declared Republican campaign methods are similar. Then he told how the Gibraltar district has in times past saved the state to Democracy, and appealed to local pride to come to the rescue once more, with a bigger majority.

There was nothing said especially about state issues. The strong speech of former Governor Bradley at Princeton was not touched upon; but every possible chord of passion and prejudice, pride, lust, hate and hope were played upon in behalf of the city and legislative ticket.

Taking the open appeal in Paducah in connection with the reputation of the Louisville platform at Mayfield yesterday afternoon, one can form a picture of the governor's mind, as he considers the situation in Kentucky. Governor Beckham carried the rural counties of Kentucky on a local option platform at the state primary. He fell out with the Louisville city machine; but was overruled in the Hager and Hines influence in the state committee, and Owen Tyler was nominated for mayor of Louisville by the city machine. Tyler declared for a wide open town and a "lidless" Sabbath. The Cincinnati Enquirer, under a Louisville date, said Tyler was Hager's candidate for mayor. The report in which Tyler's candidacy is held is indicated by the precipitation with which Auditor Hager hastened to declare that he had nothing to do with Tyler's nomination.

Yesterday afternoon Governor Beckham said at Mayfield, in charging that Mr. Wilson is not for a closed Sunday, "The better element of Kentucky citizenship is in favor of strict Sabbath observance. I can not see how any man can expect to appeal to the better class of voters without favoring a closed Sunday."

This is as much as to say that Owen Tyler, of Louisville, is not appealing to the best citizenship of Kentucky, and that Governor Beckham has nothing to do with the Louisville ticket.

Manifestly Auditor Hager and Governor Beckham believe that Owen Tyler will be defeated for mayor of Louisville. They must know that the people of Louisville are interested in the city election more than they are in the state election. Some men, fearing to lose their vote, will not scratch the ticket, and unless some powerful impulse prompts them, good citizens of Louisville, desiring to vote down the iniquitous Democratic machine, will vote the straight Republican ticket.

It is noticeable that in Paducah, the extreme statement, regarding the attitude of the "best citizenship," which the governor expressed at Mayfield, was not repeated. Such statements are for the dry counties, where the governor rolled up his majority a year ago. In Louisville the "open town" platform is adopted by the local Democracy. In Paducah and McCracken county, the Democratic ticket was not picked out to appeal to that "better element of citizenship" to which Governor Beckham referred at Mayfield. It looks as if the Democratic state machine was hoping to get an even break in the cities by appealing to local conditions, and roll up a majority in the dry counties; but the appeal for a bigger majority in the First district is taxing the resources of a Democracy that is already in rebellion against the very folks who ask so much, especially since the First district is neglected at the state pie counter.

Who cares who wins the pennant, anyway? What effect will the new rules have on mass plays?

KNIGHTS PYTHIAS

by the policy of succession in office in vogue in the order.
 The contest for grand outer guard is naturally always spirited but usually goes to some member of the order in the city in which the grand lodge meeting is held, though it is not always the case.

Paducah Has Candidate.

The Paducah lodge has selected Mr. A. E. Young as its candidate for grand outer guard and a strong fight will be made in his behalf. There are several other prospective candidates notably Editor George C. Carter, of the Kentuckian Pythian, and it is expected that the final contest will be between the two.

Mr. Young's friends have issued a card stating the claims of their candidate.

The card is as follows:
 Paducah is the fourth city in the state—the metropolis of western Kentucky. Paducah No. 26 is one of the largest lodges in the state, and this in spite of being practically isolated—away from centers of Pythian influence. West of Hopkinsville no one prominent in Pythian circles has ever lived. Paducah and western Kentucky asks for recognition. Recently some new lodges have been instituted in neighboring towns, and the future is bright with prospects. But we want to feel that we are in reality a part of the great Pythian body. Paducah's candidate is A. E. Young.

Supreme Representative.

The race for supreme representative is confined to past grand chancellors and a lively fight is always made for the place. The candidates announced are W. C. Quinby, of Lexington, the supreme representative whose term expires this year, and who stands for re-election. J. W. Pryor, of Lexington, F. G. Stuart, of Winchester, and W. F. Schuerman, of Carrollton.

The large attendance at the grand lodge meeting is a pleasant surprise to the members, many of whom had predicted that the meeting would not be largely attended on account of Paducah being in the extreme western portion of the state. The local reception committee, however, was not taken unawares by the unexpected number of guests and ample accommodations were provided for all.

Lodge Meeting Last Night.

The regular weekly meeting of Paducah lodge, Knights of Pythias, was held at the K. of P. hall, corner Fifth street and Broadway, at 8 o'clock last night.

The room was literally packed and jammed with members, both local and visitors, but they were well handled.

After the regular business had been transacted the meeting was open under "good of the order." Speeches were made by several of the most prominent visitors, all of whom were loud in their praise of the local lodge and its methods in caring for the representatives in attendance. The speech of Supreme Representative Quinby, of Dayton, was especially appreciated.

During the love feast the reception committee supplied all with cigars and the smoker was enjoyed for nearly an hour.

At the conclusion, to which it was hard for the presiding officer to bring the smoker, the conference of third rank was taken up.

Under direction of the local lodge's master of work, A. E. Stein, a volunteer degree team was organized, composed of members from all parts of the state. The work, which was in the amplified form, was splendid, considering the fact that members did not have any advantage of a rehearsal. The conferring of the rank proved a most interesting feature and brought forth much commendation.

After the degree had been conferred, the meeting adjourned.

Pythianism in the South.

The appended table has been prepared by G. K. of R. and S. J. W. Carter, for the purpose of showing to the Kentucky Knights of Pythias the growth of the Order in the past five years in the southland. Kentucky has done its share of this great work and can rightly be proud of the record. Five years ago the entire South was behind the procession, with the exception of the great state of Texas. An awakening came, and it has been the boast of Kentucky that the pace was set by its progressive movements. The results go to prove the contention, and our brothers of other states are put on their guard that they do not want Kentucky to out-distance them. A resume of our own affairs for a moment shows us at the end of the year 1901 with 6,785 members, and at the close of 1906 the number was 12,029, a gain of 5,244 and a percentage gain of 87½ per cent. During the year 1906 we went out to break our record for the institution of new lodges, and with a net increase of twenty lodges for the year, we succeeded in our purpose, and not only did that, but had to our credit three more new lodges than any Grand Domain in the country. Alabama lined up with seventeen, while our number was twenty. We have a great deal to be proud of in this showing, and as we are going to keep in line with the progressive things, we are going to tell of it.

The order universal has now 671,162 members, and has increased 131,624 members in the five-year period from 1901 to 1906, the percentage of gain being about 22½ per cent. The fourteen southern states have increased from 105,666 to 147,865, making a net gain of 42,199, or about 40 per cent and one-third of the fifty-four domains. A grand domain with less than ten thousand members has two supreme representatives, and each additional ten thousand and fraction thereof entitles it to an additional representative. Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, South Carolina, Tennessee and West Virginia increased from two to three representatives during this year, and perhaps North Carolina will increase to ten.

Exclusive Styles The Spartan

This new style, for young men, is the most exclusive shown this season, and we are the only store in Paducah featuring it.

It comes in the popular shades of blues, browns, grays, and fancy mixed patterns; the coat is three inches longer in front than in the back giving it the dip effect, and the seams in the coat are the open welt—a very swaggy effect—and very new. Priced $15.00 up. There are more new things in hats, shirts, neckwear, and hosiery than you see in most stores, drop in and see them.

thousand if she goes to work to do it. Kentucky is lining up for three thousand gain during 1907, and the motto is, "On to the fifteen-thousand membership mark." Will she get there? We are not doubting it in the least.

SALVATION ARMY

WILL BEGIN INDOOR MEETING AT 130 BROADWAY.

The Salvation Army will begin indoor meetings at their hall, 130 Broadway, this evening at 8 o'clock. The hall has been renovated and suitably furnished, making it attractive and comfortable. A piano will add "converted rag time" to the meetings and there will be much vocal and instrumental music at all the services. Tonight the hall will be opened with a red hot "blood and fire" free and easy led by Mrs. Meaker. There will be some special services all week. Thursday night Major Wm. Escott, the divisional officer for Kentucky and Tennessee will lead the meeting. Major Escott is a versatile musician and a magnetic speaker.

A children's chorus will be organized also, to help in the indoor meetings.

Captain Meaker will give a chalk-talk on Friday night on "Fools, Rules and Tools."

These meetings are open to the public and all are invited.

Smallest Married Couple in the World

THESE little people will be on exhibition in our store all this week. This is their second appearance in our store, having been on exhibition about a year ago. In this engagement with us they will twice daily give concerts, the little woman being quite a musician. These little people are in themselves very wonderful, having traveled the world over, and their exceptionally bright minds enable them to converse most entertainingly on any subject you might care to talk of.

Quite a few people missed seeing them last year and now, as we have secured their second engagement, we want everybody to pay them a visit, especially the children, as it was for their interest especially we brought them here.

PLEAD FOR TICKET

were in waiting and a procession headed by a brass band marched to the Palmer House.

At 8 o'clock the speaking began from the platform on the Kentucky avenue side of the old Longfellow school building.

Governor Beckham.

Governor Beckham was introduced by Hal Corbett and although the governor spoke about 30 minutes, giving a synopsis of his speech, those of the audience who heard his speeches before the primary and have followed the newspaper accounts of his speeches in the present campaign easily recognized an old acquaintance.

The governor, without reference to the immense war claims collected from the federal government, claimed credit for his administration for the present financial condition of the state. In concluding he referred to the local races and called upon the Democrats to support their local ticket. The reference to Mr. Harrison brought out only a small ripple of applause, and when the candidate for representative was referred to, Mr. Corbett, who presided over the meeting, led in the hand clapping and was joined by some two or three of the audience.

Ollie James.

Although the whole trend of his speech was on the defensive, Governor Beckham left for Mr. James the task of making reply to the charges directly brought against his administration by Mr. Wilson, Capt. Ed Farley and Dr. Bruner.

Congressman James was introduced by Eugene Graves and in his own vigorous and humorous way soon aroused some enthusiasm in the crowd that had listened almost silently to the governor's address. After a brief reference to local affairs, during which he poured forth a tirade of abuse and introduced the race question, Mr. James then drifted off into a discussion of national issues, giving account of his service in congress. During the course of his speech Mr. James made the claim that the Democratic members of congress were responsible for the passage of effectual rate legislation and the passage of other party measures which were passed by a Republican congress.

He accused the president of taking up Democratic ideas and made the assertion that he believed that Mr. Roosevelt was really a good Democrat, anyway. Mr. James expressed the opinion that the next congress, fearing Japan, will vote to dispose of the Philippine islands.

Like Governor Beckham, Mr. James made an attempt to stir up race hatred. Especially was it the case when referring to local issues. Closing his speech in an oratorical outburst, the speaker paid a glowing tribute to William J. Bryan and called upon the Democrats to carry the state this year as an encouragement to their leader.

Mr. James was frequently applauded by his hearers and throughout the meeting it was plainly evident that he was personally popular with the crowd.

The speeches last night were final ones in the governor's itinerary in the First district, and the party left this morning for Louisville. Nine speeches were made in the district beginning last Monday at Murray.

Mr. Bryan will be the next Democratic speaker to enter the western portion of the state, and will be followed by Mr. Hager and probably Owsley Stanley, of the Second congressional district.

GLACIER LOST ANCHOR.

The Vessel Accompanying Admiral Evans' Fleet Has Mishap.
Washington, Oct. 1.—The supply vessel Glacier, which is accompanying Admiral Evans' Atlantic battle-ship fleet, lost an anchor at Provincetown, according to a dispatch received at the navy department today from Admiral Evans. The report of the Glacier's loss led to rumors of a collision between vessels of Admiral Evans' fleet, but if anything of this character had occurred the admiral said nothing of it in his telegram to the department.

HURRIED WORK

FIGURES DON'T TALLY EXACTLY IN TAX SUITS.

Auditor's Agent and Democratic Worker Takes a Shot at James P. Smith.

Here's another ruse of Democrats to gain disfavor for James P. Smith, Republican candidate for mayor:

Charles W. Emery, who is revenue agent by appointment from the state auditor, and who is a leading Democratic worker in Paducah, filed three suits in county court today, which by every indication were gotten up so hurriedly that the figures do not tally against James P. Smith, his father's estate, and the firm of which he is the head. The suits follow:

Commonwealth of Kentucky, by C. W. Emery, revenue agent, against James P. Smith. For the collection of $625 for four years' back taxes on diamonds valued at $1,000; an automobile and carriage valued at $1,000; piano, $500, cash money, $2,500, aggregating $5,000. He fixes a fair valuation for each year's tax at $625. Emery's allegations are that Smith did not assess this personal property.

Suit No. 2—Same plaintiff against J. R. Smith's estate for alleged unassessed personal property aggregating $20,000, fixing a fair valuation for taxes at $550 for each of the four years.

Suit No. 3—Same plaintiff against J. R. Smith & Sons, the firm, for back taxes alleged unassessed personally for five years back, aggregating $15,000, for which he fixed a fair valuation of $1,875 for each year.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The Great Restorative Non-Alcoholic Tonic

of the day, made entirely of native medicinal roots and without a drop of alcohol in its composition.

There are no secrets—all its ingredients being printed on the bottle-wrappers.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only builds up the strength of the feeble, debilitated, languid, nervous and easily fatigued, whether young or aged, but it enriches and purifies the blood, thus making the improvement lasting.

It corrects and overcomes indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, torpid liver, chronic diarrhea and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Bronchial, throat and laryngeal affections, attended with hoarseness, persistent cough, and all manner of catarrhal affections are cured by the "Golden Medical Discovery."

In Chronic Nasal Catarrh, it is well to cleanse the nasal passages out freely with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" as a constitutional treatment. Old obstinate cases of catarrh yield to this thorough course of treatment.

Through enriching and purifying the blood, the "Discovery" cures scrofulous affections, also blotches, pimples, eruptions, and other ugly affections of the skin. Old, open, running sores, or ulcers, are healed by taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" internally and applying Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve as a local dressing. The Salve can be had of druggists, or will be sent by return mail on receipt of 50 cents in stamps. Address Doctor Pierce as below for it.

In short "Golden Medical Discovery" regulates, purifies and invigorates the whole system and thus cures a very large range of diseases. The reason why it cures such a varied list of diseases is made clear in a little booklet of extracts from the leading medical authorities, compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and which he will be pleased to send post-paid and entirely free to any who send him their names and addresses.

You can't afford to accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps (to cover cost of mailing) for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

BETTER LAND LAW

such circumstances, the public man who was for the moment successful tended to either a violent reactionary or a violent demagogue. Any such condition of political life is as hopelessly unhealthy now as it was then. I believe so implicitly in the future of our people, because I believe that the average American citizen will no more tolerate government by a mob than he will tolerate government by a plutocracy; that he desires to see justice done to and justice exacted from rich man and poor man alike. We are not trying to favor any man at the expense of his fellows. We are trying to shape things so that as far as possible each man shall have a fair chance in life; so that he shall have so far as by law this can be accomplished, the chance to show the stuff that there is in him. We have no intention of trying to work for the impossible and undesirable end of giving to the lazy, the thriftless, the weak, and the vicious, the reward that belongs to, and in the long run can only come to, the hard working, the thrifty, the resolute, and the honest. But we do wish to see that the necessary struggle in life shall be carried on under genuinely democratic conditions; that, so far as human action can safely provide it, there shall be an approximately fair start; that there shall be no oppression of the weak, and that no man shall be permitted to acquire or to use a vast fortune by methods or in ways that are tortuous and dishonest.

"Therefore we need wise laws, and we need to have them resolutely administered. We can get such laws and such administration only if the people are alive to their interests. The other day I listened to an admirable sermon by Bishop Johnston, of western Texas. His theme was that the vital element in judging any man should not be his pretensions; and, further more, that freedom could only stay with a people which has the habit of self-mastery. As he said, the price of liberty is not only eternal vigilance, but eternal virtue; and I may add, eternal common sense. Each man here knows that he himself has been able to use his freedom to advantage only provided that he could master himself, that he could control his own passions and direct his own faculties. Each of you fathers and mothers here knows that if your sons are to dwell in the world they must know how to master themselves. Every man must have a master; if he is not his own master, then somebody else will be. This is just as true of public life as of private life. If we can not master ourselves, control ourselves, then sooner or later we shall have to submit to outside control; for there must be control somewhere.

Cannot Be Bluffed.

"One way of exercising such control is through the laws of the land. Ours is a government of liberty, but it is government of that orderly liberty, which comes by and through the honest enforcement of and obedience to the law. At intervals during the last few months the appeal has been made to me not to enforce the law against certain wrongdoers of great wealth because to do so would interfere with the business prosperity of the country. Under the effects of that kind of fright which when sufficiently acute we call panic, this appeal has been made to me even by men who ordinarily behave as decent citizens. One newspaper which has itself strongly advanced this view gave prominence to the statement of a certain man of great wealth to the effect that the so-called financial weakness 'was due entirely to the admitted intention of President Roosevelt to punish the large moneyed interests which had transgressed the laws.' I do not admit that this has been the main cause of any business troubles we have had; but it is possible that it has been a contributory cause. If so, friends, as far as I am concerned it must be accepted as a disgraceful but unavoidable feature in a course of policy which as long as I am president will not be changed. In any great movement for righteousness, where the forces of evil are strongly entrenched, it is unfortunately that some offending people should suffer in company with the real offenders. This is not our fault. It is the fault of those to whose deceptive action these innocent people owe their false position. A year or two ago certain representatives of labor called upon me and in the course of a very pleasant conversation told me that they regarded me as 'the friend of labor.' I answered that I certainly was, and that I would do everything in my power for the laboring man except anything that was wrong. I have the same answer to make to the business man.

"Whenever a serious effort is made to cut out what is evil in our political life, whether the effort takes the shape of warring against the gross and sordid forms of evil in some municipality, or whether it takes the shape of trying to secure the honest enforcement of the law as against very powerful and wealthy people, there are sure to be certain individuals who demand that the movement stop because it may hurt business. In each case the answer must be that we earnestly hope and believe that there will be no permanent damage to business from the movement, but that if righteousness conflicts with the fancied needs of business, then the latter must go to the wall. We cannot afford to substitute any other test for that of guilt or innocence, of

DOCTOR THE ITCH WHERE THE ITCH IS.

Don't Dose the Stomach to Cure Eczema and Other Skin Diseases.

Those afflicted with Eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, or other skin diseases of a similar nature, should never dose the stomach to rid themselves of the terrible itch. They should doctor the itch where the itch is—cure the skin through the skin, not through the stomach.

Eczema and other diseases of a kindred kind are skin diseases—not blood diseases. Science has shown that Eczema is caused by germs in the skin, and that the disease can be eradicated only by killing the germs.

Dr. Decatur D. Dennis was one of the first physicians to follow out the germ theory in skin diseases. Then he discovered that by mixing oil of wintergreen with other soothing agents he had a liquid prescription which killed the germs and cured the awful itch, leaving the skin white and smooth. Since that time this D. D. D. Prescription has been the standard remedy for skin diseases, just as D. D. D. soap is the standard high grade skin soap.

The first few drops of D. D. D. give instant relief from the terrible itch and from the frightful burning of the diseased skin. So reliable is this D. D. D. remedy that hundreds of physicians prescribe it. It is as wash as thin as water and as mild and as pure, which is applied to the diseased portion of the skin.

Mrs. Frances Richmond, of Milton, Trimble county, Kentucky, writes: "My little girl's fingers were sore almost to the bone from Eczema. I used part of the sample bottle of D. D. D. Prescription received from you and now they are well. It is a wonderful skin remedy."

We carefully investigated this D. D. D. Prescription before recommending it to our neighbors and patrons, and after a long experience we are more than ever convinced of its wonderful merits.

Keep to the Farms.

"You in Iowa have many manufacturing centers, but you remain, and I hope you will always remain, a great agricultural state. I hope that the means of transporting your commodities to market will be steadily improved; but this will be of no use unless you keep producing the commodities, and in the long run this will largely depend upon your being able on the farm a high type of citizenship. The effort must be to make farm life not only remunerative but attractive, so that the best young men and girls will feel inclined to stay on the farm and not to go to the city. Nothing is more important to this country than the perpetuation of our system of medium-sized farms worked by their owners.

"This type of farm home is one of our strongest political and social bulwarks. Such a farm worked by the owner has proved by experience the best place in which to breed vigorous leaders alike for country and city. It is a matter of prime economic and civic importance to encourage this type of home-owning farmer.

A Word to the West.

"Now, men of Iowa, I want to say just a word on a matter that concerns not the states of the Mississippi valley itself, but the states west of them, the states of the great plains and the Rocky mountains. Unfortunately, I am not able on this present trip to visit those states, or I should speak to their own people on the point to which I now intend to allude; but after all anything that affects a considerable number of Americans who live under one set of conditions, must be of moment to all other Americans, for never forget, friends, that in the long run we shall all go up or go down together.

"The states of the high plains and of the mountains have a peculiar claim upon me, because for a number of years I lived and worked in them, and I have that intimate knowledge of their people that comes under such conditions. In those states there is need of a modification of the land laws that have worked so well in the well-watered fertile regions to the eastward, such as those in which you here dwell. The one object in all land laws should always be to favor the actual settler, the actual homemaker, who comes to dwell on the land and there to bring up his children to inherit it after him. The government should part with its title to the land only to the actual homemaker—not to the profit-maker, who does not care to make a home. The land should be sold outright only in quantities sufficient for decent homes—not in huge areas to be held for speculative purposes or used as ranches, where those who do do the actual work are merely tenants or hired hands. No temporary prosperity of any class of men could in the slightest degree atone for failure on our part to shape the laws so that they may work for the permanent good of the homemaker. This is fundamental, gentlemen, and is simply carrying out the idea upon which I dwell in speaking to you of your own farms here in Iowa. Now in many states where the rainfall is light it is a simple absurdity to expect any man to live, still less to bring up a family, on one hundred and sixty acres. Where we are able to introduce irrigation, the homestead can be very much less in size—can, for instance, be forty acres; and there is nothing that congress has done during the past six years more important than the enactment of the national irrigation law. But where irrigation is not applicable and the land can only be used for grazing, it may be that you can not run more than one steer to ten acres, and it is not necessary to be much of a mathematician in order to see where such is the case a homestead of one hundred and sixty acres will not go far toward the support of a family. In consequence of this fact, homesteaders do not take up the lands in the tract in question. They are left open for anybody to graze upon that wishes to. The result is that the men who use them moderately and not with a view to exhausting their resources are at the mercy of those who care nothing for the future and simply intend to skin the land in the present. For instance, the small sheep farmer who has a home and who wishes that home to pass on to his children improved in value will naturally run his flock so that the land will support it, not only today, but ten years hence; but a big absentee sheep owner, who has no home on the land at all, but simply owns huge migratory flocks of sheep, may well find it so his profit to drive them over the small sheep farmer's range and eat it all out. He can then drive his flocks on, whereas the small man can not. Of course, to permit such a state of things is not only evil for the small man, but is destructive of the best interests of the country. Substantially, the same conditions obtain as regards cattle. The custom has therefore grown up of fencing great tracts of government land without warrant of law. The men who fenced this land were sometimes rich men, who by fencing it, kept out actual settlers and thereby worked evil to the country. But in many cases, whether they were large men or small men, their object was not to keep out actual settlers, but to protect themselves and their own industry by preventing overgrazing of the range on the part of reckless stock owners who had no place in the permanent development of the country and who were indifferent to every thing except the profits of the moment. To permit the continuance of this illegal fencing inevitably tended to very grave abuses, and the government has therefore forced the fences to take down their fences. In doing this we have not only obeyed and enforced the law, but we have corrected many flagrant abuses. Nevertheless, we have also caused hardship, which, though unavoidable, I was exceedingly unwilling to cause. In some way or other we must provide for the use of the public range under conditions which shall insure primarily to the benefit of the actual settlers on or near it, and which shall prevent its being wasted. This means that in some shape or way the fencing of pasture land must be permitted under restrictions which will safeguard the rights of the actual settlers. I desire to act as these actual settlers wish to have me in this matter. I wish to find out their needs and desires and then to try to put them into effect. But they must take trouble must look ahead to their own ultimate and real good, must insist upon being really represented by their public men, if we are to have a good result."

S.S.S. PURIFIES THE BLOOD

There is no other part of our physical system upon which so much depends as upon the blood. The muscles, nerves, bones, sinews, skin, and other portions of the body are sustained, developed and enabled to perform their different duties, because they are supplied with nourishment and healthful properties through the circulation. In various ways the blood becomes contaminated and polluted. A sluggish, inactive condition of the system, and torpid state of the avenues of bodily waste, will leave the refuse and waste matter of the body to sour and form uric and other acids, which are absorbed into the blood and Rheumatism, or some itching, disfiguring skin disease is the result. Muddy, sallow complexions, eruptions, blotches, pimples, etc., all show that some humor has taken root in the circulation and rendered it sour and unfit for nourishing the body. There is scarcely any disease which cannot be traced to the blood. Often the disease-tainted blood of parents is handed down to children and their lives are a continual battle against disease in some form, usually of a scrofulous nature. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood troubles, and until this vital fluid is purified they cannot be cured. For all blood diseases S. S. S. is the best remedy ever put upon the market. This great medicine is made of roots, herbs and barks of recognized blood-purifying and building-up properties. It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, impurities and humors, supplies the blood with the healthful properties it needs and completely cures blood diseases of every kind. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., because it purifies the blood. Book on the blood and medical advice free.

CHAPTER XI.
SUMMER Waned. The evenings became chill, although the sun pretended at noon that its power was undiminished. Back to town from mountain and seashore filtered the warm weather idlers, but no more letters came from St. Petersburg to the hill by the Hudson. So far as our girls were concerned, a curtain of silence had fallen between Europe and America.

The flat was now furnished, and the beginning of autumn saw it occupied by the two friends. Realization of this instance lacked the delight of anticipation. At last Katherine was the bachelor girl she had longed to be, but the pleasures of freedom were as dead as fruit to the lips. At last Dorothy was effectively cut off from all thoughts of slavery, with unlimited money to do what she pleased with, yet, after all, of what advantage was it in solving the problem that haunted her by day and filled her dreams by night? She faced the world with seeming unconcern, for she had not the right to mourn even if she knew he were dead. He had made no claim, had asked for no affection, had written no word to her but what all the world might read. Once a week she made a little journey up the Hudson and at first Katherine accompanied her, but now she went alone. Katherine was too honest a girl to pretend an interest where she felt none. She could not talk of architecture when she was thinking of a man and his fate. At first she had been querulously impatient when no second communication came. Her own letters, she said, must have reached him; otherwise they would have been returned. Later doubt took possession of her, and she grew silent, plunged with renewed energy into her books, joined a technical school, took lessons and grew paler and paler until her teachers warned her she was overdoing it.

Inwardly she resented the serene impassiveness of her friend, who consulted calmly with the architect upon occasion about the decoration of the church, when men's liberty was gone and perhaps their lives. She built up within her mind a romance of devotion, by which her lover, warning in vain the stolid Englishman, had at last been involved in the ruin that Drummond's absurdness had brought upon them both and unjustly implicated the quiet woman by her side in the responsibility of his sacrifice. Once or twice she spoke with angry impatience of Drummond and his stupidity, but Dorothy neither defended nor excused, and so no open rupture occurred between the two friends, for a quarrel cannot be one-sided.

But with a woman of Katherine's temperament the final outburst had to come, and it came on the day that the first flurry of snow fell through the still air, capering in large flakes past the windows of the flat down to the muddy street far below. Katherine was standing by the window, with her forehead leaning against the plate glass, in exactly the attitude that had been her habit in the sewing room at Bar Harbor, but now the staccato of her fingers on the sill seemed to drum a dead march of despair. The falling snow had darkened the room, and one electric light was aglow over the dainty Chippendale desk at which Dorothy sat writing a letter. The smooth, regular flow of the pen over the paper roused Katherine to a frenzy of exasperation. Suddenly she brought her clinched fist down on the sill where her fingers had been drumming.

"My God!" she cried. "How can you sit there like an automaton with the snow falling?"

Dorothy put down her pen.

"The snow falling?" she echoed. "I don't understand."

"Of course you don't. You don't think of the drifts in Siberia and the two men you have known, whose hands you have clasped, mannequin, driven through it with the lash of a Cossack's whip."

Dorothy rose quietly and put her hands on the shoulders of the girl, feeling her frame tremble underneath her touch.

"Katherine," she said quietly, but Katherine, with a nervous twitch of her shoulders, flung off the friendly grasp.

"Don't touch me!" she cried. "Go back to your letter writing. You and the Englishman are exactly alike—unfeeling, heartless. He with his selfish stubbornness has involved an innocent man in the calamity his own stupidity has brought about."

"Katherine, sit down. I want to talk calmly with you."

"Calmly! Calmly! Yes, that is the word. It is easy for you to be calm when you don't care. But I care, and I cannot be calm."

"What do you wish to do, Katherine?"

"What can I do? I am a pauper and a dependent, but one thing I am determined to do, and that is to go and live in my father's house."

"If you were in my place, what would you do, Katherine?"

"I would go to Russia."

first find where they were; then I'd use all the influence I possessed with the American ambassador to get them set free."

"The American ambassador, Kate, cannot move to release either an Englishman or a Russian."

"I'd do it somehow. I wouldn't sit here like a stick or a stone, writing letters to my architect."

"Would you go to Russia alone?"

"No; I should take my father with me."

"That is an excellent idea, Kate. I advise you to go north by tonight's train, if you like, and see or telegraph to him to come and see us."

Kate sat down, and Dorothy drew the curtains across the window pane and snapped on the central cluster of electric lamps.

"Will you come with me if I go north?" asked Kate in a milder tone than she had hitherto used.

"I cannot. I am making an appointment with a man in this room tomorrow."

"The architect, I suppose," cried Kate, with scorn.

"No, with a man who may or may not give me information of Lamont or Drummond."

Katherine stared at her open-eyed.

"Then you have been doing something?"

"I have been trying, but it is difficult to know what to do. I have received a letter from Mr. Drummond a short time after you received yours from Mr. Lamont. I never showed it to you, but now things are so bad that they cannot be worse and you are at liberty to read the letter if you wish to do so. It tells of Jack's disappearance and of Drummond's agony of mind and helplessness in St. Petersburg. Since he has never written again, I am sure he was arrested later. I don't know which of the two was most at fault for what you call stubbornness, but I believe the explosion had more to do with the arrests than any action of theirs."

"And I was the cause of that," wailed Katherine.

"No, no, my dear girl. No one is to blame but the tyrant of Russia. Now the nihilists insist that neither of these men has been sent to Siberia. They think they are in the prison of St. Peter and St. Paul. That information came to me today in the letter I was just now answering. So, Katherine, I think you have been unjust to the Englishman. If he had been arrested first, there might be some grounds for what you charge, but they evidently gave him a chance to escape. He had his warning in the disappearance of his friend, and he had several days in which to get out of St. Petersburg, but he stood his ground."

"I'm sorry, Dorothy. I'm a silly fool, and today when I saw the snow—well, I got all wrought up."

"I think neither of the men is in the snow. And now I am going to say something else and then never speak of the subject again. You say I didn't care, and of course you are quite right. But I confessed to you that I didn't. But just imagine—imagine that I cared. The Russian government can let the prince go at any moment, and there's nothing more to be said. He has no redress and must take the consequences of his nationality. But if the Russian government have arrested the Englishman, if they have put him in the prison of St. Peter and St. Paul, they dare not release him unless they are willing to face war. The Russian government can do nothing in his case but deny, demand proof and obliterate all chance of the truth—ever being known. Alan Drummond is doomed. They dare not release him. Now, think for a moment how much worse my case would be than yours if—I"—her voice quivered and broke for the moment; then, with tightly clinched fists, she recovered control of herself and finished—"if I cared."

"Oh, Dorothy, Dorothy, Dorothy!" gasped Katherine, springing to her feet.

"No, no, don't jump at any false conclusion. We are both nervous wrecks this afternoon. Don't misunderstand me. I don't care—I don't care, except that I hate tyranny and am sorry for the victims of it."

"Dorothy, Dorothy!"

"We need a sane man in the house, Kate. Telegraph for your father to come down and talk to us both. I must finish my letter to the nihilist."

"Dorothy!" said Katherine, kissing her.

Alcohol

We take pleasure in announcing that we now have Denatured Alcohol for our trade. It is to be used for burning purposes only, as nearly every one now knows, but for use in the arts and mechanics it is the most economical and satisfactory fuel known.

Cheaper than wood alcohol, it also burns without any of its offensive odor. Next time try it in your chafing dish or alcohol heater; it will be a revelation to you. Be sure to phone WINSTEAD'S, for no other Paducah druggist handles it.

Little Ills of Children

Mothers and all others who have children about the house cannot do their families a better service than to learn of simple and reliable remedies that correct children's ailments. Many grown people are suffering today for the ignorance or negligence of those who had charge of their bringing up.

Children are prone to constipation, and if it isn't corrected early, the bowels get in the habit of not working normally and soon chronic constipation results that may last off and on all through life. Then children eat almost continually and as a consequence indigestion sets in soon followed by worms, stomach pains, or diarrhea, or any one of a dozen other troubles. To say that it will right itself is putting too much faith in chance. It is today with the child's present and future health.

A better way is to give the child a dose of something intended to cure that very trouble, and nothing better for the purpose is known than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It never grips but is as gentle as a breeze and as pleasant to the taste as the child's favorite food. Buy a 5-cent or 10-cent bottle of your druggist and have the child from sickness. You should remember that a child whose stomach is in good working order is able to catch colds and other diseases. Perfect health of the child is the result of a good stomach.

Mrs. Curry, of Trowbridge, Ill., attributes the remarkable health of her child to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which she gives regularly in these disorders. Mrs. Eversole, of Hinsdale, Ill., is frank to say that the present good condition of her five-year-old boy is due to this wonderful remedy. Try it in your own family and you will not share these opinions. Every bottle is guaranteed to do exactly as we claim, and the purity of ingredients is also vouched for.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by mail. The sample bottle is not for sale, but the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of indigestion, or if your child is sick. It is most effective laxative for children, women and old folk. A guarantee, permanent home cure. THE DR. lishman several days later. I had a letter from Mr. Drummond a short time after you received yours from Mr. Lamont. I never showed it to you, but now things are so bad that they cannot be worse and you are at liberty to read the letter if you wish to do so. It tells of Jack's disappearance and of Drummond's agony of mind and helplessness in St. Petersburg. Since he has never written again, I am sure he was arrested later. I don't know which of the two was most at fault for what you call stubbornness, but I believe the explosion had more to do with the arrests than any action of theirs."

"And I was the cause of that," wailed Katherine.

"No, no, my dear girl. No one is to blame but the tyrant of Russia. Now the nihilists insist that neither of these men has been sent to Siberia. They think they are in the prison of St. Peter and St. Paul. That information came to me today in the letter I was just now answering. So, Katherine, I think you have been unjust to the Englishman. STORY OF CAIRO IN OUR HISTORY

Repeated in Connection With President's Visit.

Some Points of Interest and Importance Along Banks of Great Mississippi River.

FAMOUS COLONIAL HOUSES.

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 1.—If Pierre Laclede and his sturdy followers could stand on the banks of the Mississippi October 2, and view the vast procession of steamers and launches accompanying the president and his party on this memorable trip, they would certainly feel like one in a dream. Just think of the toll and trouble these men had compared with the present, and no writer can give them praise enough to repay them in founding the great city—St. Louis.

On the bluffs, just below the city proper, stands the homes of many of the earlier men who helped shape the destiny of this country. The homes of the Chouteaus, the Scullins and many other prominent families are seen against the sky line. Here, too, they have watched and have seen the river in its palmy days. Now their descendants will be watching and cheering this procession of steamers.

Many old faces will be at the windows of Altenheim, formerly the old Chouteau mansion, to watch the procession go by. Soon the boom of cannon will be heard and the thousands of soldiers of Jefferson barracks will be lined up, cavalry and infantry and artillery, to add to the already magnificent scene.

Just below here the river for miles is overlooked by magnificent bluffs. Springs and caves are to be found here, too. A little further, the Marmes comes to join the Mississippi and to help carry the steamers and distinguished passengers on down the river. Montesano, the famous park, known to all St. Louisans; Kimmick and Chimney Rock, where great wealth is supposed to lie hidden where the Spaniards years ago placed it, are all here together. Soon the smoke will be seen rising from a city just a bit back of the river, Crystal City, where hundreds of men are working day and night in its immense glass factories.

Just below this place there rises, between two very high bluffs, Shot Tower and Cedar Hill, the home of William K. Kavanaugh, president of the Deep Waterways association. It will, no doubt, be night when the president and his party pass here and lucky, it is, too, for I'm sure a halt would be called and the president, the governors, congressmen, delegates, visitors and all, would storm the castle and take possession. There is some talk of this being done, anyhow. Selma Hall, as Mr. Kavanaugh has named his home, is richly endowed by nature, and architecture has helped to increase its beauty. The tower against the dark background of Cedar Hill is known to every pilot and riverman.

St. Genevieve is a little further down the river. This is the oldest town in Missouri, settled by the French, and the birthplace of many distinguished families who have since gone to St. Louis. St. Genevieve has a large basket factory and lumber business.

Kaskaskia, the oldest town in Illinois, is near here, and is full of historic lore. The Mississippi has not treated Kaskaskia very nicely, having at one time taken away its courthouse and a great many of its homes.

Port Gage, where once was entertained the renowned General Lafayette, is just below here. Chester, Ill., is only twenty miles away, and is situated on a high bluff with winding roadway and steps from the lower city to the upper.

Grand Tower is a large, rocky island and makes an imposing background.

ground for the passing steamer. The Devil's Tea Table, I am told, used to be on the bluffs near here, but the railroad needed the space and the Devil's Table was blown up. The president and his party will see many beautiful landings and homes all along the river, but space will not permit the mention of them all.

Cape Girardeau, Mo., is the first important city that the president will pass. Ten thousand people inhabit this city, and almost every industry is carried on here—brick yards, shoe factories, cotton mills, immense lumber mills and basket factories. Here, too, is the normal school.

There, with its great bridge spanning the river, is just below. Then comes Commerce, quite an important city.

The country here is one vast river bottom farm—35 miles to the city of Cairo—and on both sides of the river there are plantations fertile beyond description.

BURNED TO DEATH IN WRECKED TRAIN

Fate of Two Men in Terrible
Frisco Disaster.

Three More Are Probably Fatally Injured Out of Twenty-Five Victims.

COLLISION KILLED CATTLE

Rolla, Mo., Oct. 1.—Two men were burned to death and 25 were hurt three probably fatally, when the Meteor, the Frisco crack passenger train from the southwest to St. Louis jumped the track on the compound curve down Dixon's hill, 25 miles west of Rolla, at 8:10 o'clock this morning.

The train was 30 minutes behind time, and is said by passengers to have been running 60 miles an hour in an effort to reach St. Louis on time. Screams of agony from scalded and burned men mingled with the hiss of escaping steam and the roar of the flames when the wreckage caught fire. Only one car remains of the train.

The dead:
FRANK E. CRISSEY, of St. Louis, mail clerk, burned in the car.
FREDERICK CHAMBERS, of Springfield, engineer, burned under his engine.

Crisey was trapped in the mail car and was burned to death, the survivors being powerless to add him although they could hear his cries and could see him trying to get out.

Burned to Death.

Chambers was pinned by his right leg beneath the wreckage and begged those around him to cut off his leg that he might be taken out of the way of the advancing flames. Even after his clothing caught fire the bystanders could not summon courage to amputate the leg. H. D. Prescott, of St. Louis the dining car conductor obtained an ax and was about to liberate the man when his nerve failed and he turned away sobbing. Chambers was burned to death.

The Meteor is the heaviest and most costly equipment of any train on the Frisco's lines. It runs from Paris, Tex., to St. Louis, and was due this morning at 8:10 at Rolla. The hill where the wreck occurred is one of the most dangerous on the line.

Cattle Killed.

Stanton, Mo., Oct. 1.—The south-bound Texas limited train on the Frisco road, which left St. Louis last night, collided with a freight train near here shortly before midnight and about twenty people were injured three of whom may die. The freight train was loaded with cattle and a large number of the animals were crushed to death.

Both locomotives were demolished. The freight "was trying to make a siding at Anacosta, on short time when the passenger train dashed around the curve at full speed. The engineers on both engines had barely time to put on the air brakes and jump.

Engine Explodes.

Water Valley, Miss., Oct. 1.—Switch engine No. 1732 exploded with tremendous force Saturday afternoon at the south gate of the Illinois Central railroad shops blowing hot steam and water and scraps of iron in all directions. Machinist John McMillan had his leg broken in two places and was otherwise injured. Engineer L. H. Foss was wounded, but not seriously. Six negroes working nearby were wounded by the flying scraps of iron or hot steam. Will McFarland, badly scalded; Harry Robinson, leg broken; Ody Ware, arm broken and scalded. The other negroes' wounds are slight.

IN METROPOLIS

Dr. Agnew, of Samoth, is visiting in town.

Rufus Elmore, of Murphysboro, Ill. is visiting his brother Dr. Elmore.

Walter Fardell has gone to St. Louis to work at the carpenter trade. Some Metropolis boys recently went to Paducah, in a little too free of Paducah's fire water, got into a mix up and left some of their finances with the judge.

Mrs. Margaret Walker has returned from a visit to her daughter in Memphis.

Smith Walsh, Ike Minor, Stewart Bowker and Earl Armstrong, four school boys, have formed an orchestra and play first-class music.

Harry Hick spent Sunday at home. Mr. and Mrs. Ot Dye, the ball pitcher and his wife, have accepted positions at Peoria.

John Kraper, of Paducah, spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Will May.

Henry Rampendahl has gone to St. Louis to see the Veiled Prophet.

Mrs. Lawrence Fern, of Tunned Hill, Ill., is visiting Mrs. Pal Johnson.

Alf Hick, who has been traveling through western states is home for a visit to friends and home folks.

Willis Ward has gone to see the Veiled Prophet at St. Louis.

Henry Miller and wife are attending the Veiled Prophet at St. Louis and the state fair at Springfield this week. They are the guests of Dr. George A. Stewart and wife, of East St. Louis, formerly of this place, while at St. Louis.

Gus Quante, Fred Young, Dr. Ed Trovillion and Frank McFadden, are taking in the state fair at Springfield, Ill., this week.

The Metropolis High school football team went to Marion to play football and was defeated by a score of 64 to 0.

J. F. McCartney and wife, who have been on an extended trip through Scotland, England and Germany have arrived home.

THE HIGH SCHOOL STANDS AT THE TOP

Graduates are Admitted to Sophomore Class.

Athletic Association Will Ask For
Shower Bath in High School Building.

MAY HAVE RIVES RACING

"Graduates of the Paducah High school stand as high as any in the country", is the declaration of members of the faculty of Kentucky's State college at Lexington, made to Bell Nichols, Brent James and Robert Halley, who were admitted to the sophomore class. This fact was made known in a letter received this morning by Miss Ada Brazelton, a teacher in the high school from Mr. Bell Nichols, a P. H. S. graduate now in Lexington college. Miss Brazelton shared the compliment with other members of the faculty and announced the compliment to the classes this morning.

Supt. John Carnegie this morning addressed the High school and his talk was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Carnegie has become popular with pupils and was loudly applauded on mounting the stage and on leaving it after his address.

Athletics.

To night at the regular school board meeting, a committee from the Paducah High School Athletic association, will ask the board to furnish a shower bath in Washington school basement. Such an improvement will, cost little, and it is thought the board will grant the request.

There is some talk in the athletic association of organizing a shell racing squad, if sufficient money can be raised to buy a shell. At Mound City a racing squad is attracting attention, and everything here is favorable for such sport.

Portable Stage.

As soon as possible Superintendent of Buildings Fred Hoyer will begin building a portable stage for the Washington school auditorium. The present stage is too high, and the new one will be lower and built in sections, to be removed at will, giving more room in the auditorium.

A literary society on a more extensive scale than ever before attempted, will be organized among pupils in the High school at once. Prof. C. O. Perett is experienced in this and in oratorical work, and will organize debating societies. Such societies were popular two years ago, but were dropped last year.

JUSTIFIES ARREST OF EDITOR.

Calhoun Says Charge Against Older
Not Part of His Defense.

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—Patrick Calhoun, of the United Railroads said today that the alleged attempt to kidnap Fremont Older could not truthfully be made to appear to have been undertaken by those defending themselves from charges of bribery.

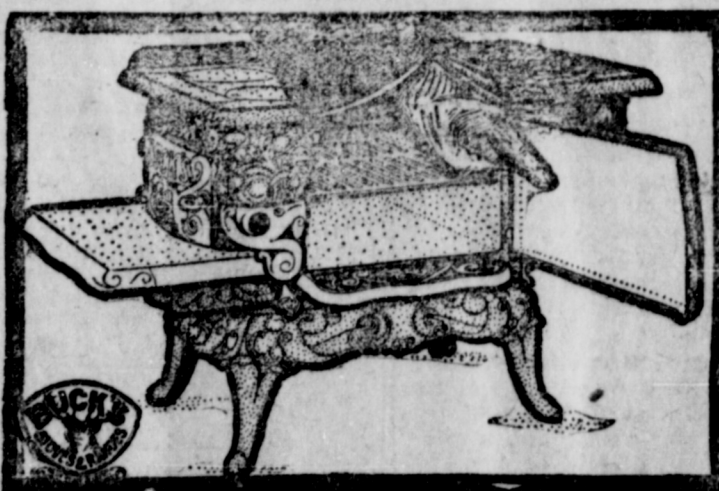

"The facts are," said Mr. Calhoun, "that Luther Brown, who is a lawyer of Los Angeles, was attacked by the Bulletin, which printed an infamous story concerning him in connection with an alleged attempt to kidnap former Superintendent Loneragan."

It is further pointed out by Brown's friends that it is perfectly obvious that it would have been futile to have attempted the arraignment of Older in San Francisco county, owing to the relations existing between Older and the prosecuting officers of San Francisco.
